

HO, HO, HO... hello Baobao!

I hope you are having an exciting morning.

I am sorry that the present I prepared for you cannot make it on time for delivery this year. My team worked hard to find you the right gift. And we finally found that one of the toy factories in China produces it. Unfortunately, thousands of people in China are suffering from COVID-19, which causes the delay.

On our record, you've been a very good boy this year. And I also know that you are one of the most patient kids in the world. The present will arrive soon, I promise.

Please remember to be kind to all of your friends and family. Friends and loved ones are our greatest gifts.

Love, Santa
